In apite of the fact that the Pederation of Irish County Societies were mainly instrumental in pringing the heatile factions of the A.O. H. together, its members did not participate in the parade to-day.

The occurrence occasioned no little comment, and it was explained that the Federation did not march besulus it had been relegated to the war of the line when its members believe they should have been accorded a more prominent position, by the A.O. H. people.
